DAIST HAMPTON TESTIFIES. ment for Her to Remember Things Against fer Pal, Swindler McLaughitn. Daisy Hampton, the young woman who was paired with Chester or Charles McLaughlin of the McLaughlin Valentine gang of swindlers, ess the first witness called by the prosecution sterday in the General Sessions, where Mclaughlin was but on trial for grand larceny, Tiss Hampton had spent several months in the Tombs, and was finally released after she had ade a confession to Assistant District Attorney ashorae. At the time she was said to be very Il. Yesterday she was a picture of health. Mrs. Foster, the Tombs angel, had had her out in the country. The girl did not seem anxious to testify grainst McLaughlin, for when Mr. Osborne tried to bring out any particularly damaging nestimony she answered, "I forget that," or. "My memory is so poor I really can't remember.

She repeated the story of her life; how she thanged her name from Smith to Hampton, after leaving her home in Connecticut to go away with McLaughlin.

"He took me to Long Branch last September." she said. "First we boarded at a hotel and then we bired a cottage. While there Mr. McLaughlin pent considerable money on me. Now and then I reshed checks for him as his check book will

She testified that she bought goods at O'Neill's with McLaughlin's checks. One check for $5 was good. Mr. Osborne said he wanted to show that McLaughlin had made good a $5 check so that he could work off worthless ones on the same persons. This was a fly trick, the prosecu-

"I want him to take that remark back, houted Lawyer Howe, who had already had everal sonorous wrangles with Mr. Osborne. I want your Honor to instruct the jury to dissbuse their minds of this testimony, and I move

"I want your Honor to instruct the jury to dissbuse their minds of this testimony, and I move to strike from the record all of this testimony relating to the $5 check."

Recorder Goff ordered it stricken from the record. Miss Hampton proceeded to tell of a fransaction she had with another of McLaughin's worthless checks. Here she appeared to lose her memory again, and couldn't say whether or not she had given McLaughlin any of the money she had obtained by passing the worthless che ks. In order to refresh her memory Mr. Osborne produced the confession she had made. It was in the form of an affidavit.

Mr. Howe objected to admitting the confession, saying it was a private statement made in Osborne's private office. It was ruled out.

The witness was questioned about her knowledge of long Branch merchants, and admitted having passed McLaughlin checks on several of these storekeepers. Then the Recorder said he would adjourn the case for the day.

"I request your Honor to see to it that this witness is not permitted to talk to Mr. Osborne hor any one else during the recess until to-morrow, said Mr. Howe.

"I have questioned the witness," said Recorder Goff," and found that she is stopping with persons in whom I have the utmost confidence.
I know nothing will be done improperly."

"Well, I hope there won't," said Mr. Howe,
"for if you remember, your Honor, there was a rery recent decision in a case that I had rerered under very similar circumstances."

"I remember that, Mr. Howe," said the Recoider.

At the beginning of the trial Lawyer Howe

"I remember that, Mr. Howe," said the Recorder.
At the beginning of the trial Lawyer Howe submitted an affidavit made by McLaughin, who stated that he had been coaxed to make a statement in Assistant District Attorney Battle's office, and made the statement on the understanding that immunity would be granted to him. This was the confession made to Mr. Osborne. Lawyer Howe argued that Mr. Osborne sught not to be allowed to prosecute McLaughlin, and that some other prosecutor should be substituted. His motion to that effect was overruled.

BOARDER A" WHITE-HAIRED BOY. spondent Horton Thus Described in the Police Commissioner Parker yesterday applied Justice Van Wyck, in the Supreme Court in ooklyn, for alimony and counsel fee for the defendant in the suit of Lee Dressner against Lelia Dressner for an absolute divorce. He also sked to have the complaint made more definite and specific in regard to the alleged improper rens of the defendant with Thomas R. Horton he co-respondent. Mr. Parker represented the support herself or the three children on her to furnish ample support to his wife and children, as he was earning $5,000 a year as a travelling salceman and owned seven or eight houses in this city and a fine summer home at Hastingson-the-Hudson.

The opposing counsel averred that the plainting in a financial condition had been exaggerated.

tin's financial condition had been exaggerated, and that the alleged improprieties of the defendant with Horton, whom he called "the young white-haired boy," had not been denied. He said that Horton had established himself in the Dressner household and occupied a room adjoining that of Mrs. Dressner, and also that in 1892 he had followed her to Europe and secreted her over the Continent, returning with her in the same steamer. The climax finally came when "the white-haired boy" refused to waste the hest room in the Hastings-on-thevacate the best room in the Hastings-on-the-Budson house, and Mr. Dressner had to get out. The hearing was adjourned to afford Mr. Parker an opportunity to furnish opposing affidavits.

"Where do you come from, that you have not heard of the law !" asked Magistrate Cornell.
"Arlington, N. J.," replied the prisoner.
"That accounts for it, but does not excuse you, "said the Magistrate.
Philip Egan and James Cannion, two coachmen, said they were more familiar with the speed of horses than with that of a bicycle, and did not know they were scorching until arrested. They were told they would know better the next time.
Frederick Miller, who lives in Guttenburg, N.J., while riding along Lexington avenue Sunday with his head down, ran into a cab. He was knocked from his wheel and arrested. He was fined $3 for his carcless riding.

Capt. Petty and Mrs. Merrill.

Mrs. Elizabeth Merrill, the Ninth ward woman The says she is persecuted by Police Captain Petty and his men, was in the General Sessions reaterday when her counsel. Lawyer Epstein, made a motion to dismiss an old indictment the arging her with keeping a disorderly house. Capt. Petty objected, asying that she had caused tharges against him to be made at Police Headquarters and wanted to better her case by getting the indictment dismissed. The motion was denied, but the woman's bail was released.

Married Thirty-two Years, Wants a Separation-The motion for alimony and counsel fees in the mit of Agnes Palmer against Grain Merchant John A. Palmer for a separation on the ground of ill treatment, which has been pending for some time, has been withdrawn, and the case will be brought to trial in a few days. The defendant recently inherited $20,000, and made a satisfactory arrangement with his wife on the alimony question. The Palmers were married searly thirty-two years ago, and have been sepsrated four years.

SPRING SUGGESTIONS.

Take Special Care During Nature's House Cleaning Time.

Avoid draughts and sudden changes of temperature. .

Do not discard your warm winter clothing too soon. It is better to suffer a little inconvenience Remember that one is especially liable to contract a bad cold or chill at this season of the year. A cough or cold contracted between the seasons is the most annoying kind, and may last through the summer.

To make the home happy, keep the health secure. Poverty may come, but it can be en-dured if the health remains.

No health was ever maintained without assist ance. Health, like the body, must be supported. But do not make a mistake and do it foolishly. If you feel a cough or cold coming on, take a drink of pure whiskey at once. It will keep the blood in circulation, and is the best preventive against the diseases of the season. Remember that only pure whiskey should be taken. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has the strongest recommendations from the leading scientists and medical men. It is the only standard medicinal whiskey. Take no other from your druggist .- Adv.
